Jerseyville, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong of Alton, came up Thursday for the day.

J. B. Ulrich and wife take solid comfort at their tent on the hill.

Rev. Dr. Corrington has a Lick Observatory in his Chautauqua home.

Warren Leveritt nicely entertained the blind boy at the spring yesterday.

Mrs. Leveritt is a member of the excellent Dominant Ninth Club, of Alton.

The Misses Gray, of Upper Alton, came up Thursday to hear Col. John Sobieski.

Mrs. Charles Nugent came in on horseback Wednesday, from her home on the bluff.

It was complimentary to Rev. Mr. Large, to be so highly spoken of by Prof. Riddell.

The hammocks are put up for parents, children and lovers. The latter class enjoy them the most.

Leave your laundry at the grocery store on the grounds, for the City Steam Laundry, Jerseyville, Ill. Finest work, prompt delivery.

At no Chautauqua in the country can be found a more courteous class of workmen and assistants, than at our Piasa Chautauqua. We are well treated at the store, given the best the hotel affords, good ice cream and cake at the restaurant, a warm welcome at the office and gate, and delightful entertainment at the pavillion. We assure you this is a good place to be.

A gentleman asked the question yesterday, "What place has the largest delegation on the grounds?" A middle aged lady heard the question, hurried through the crowd and said, "Jerseyville, Sir! I am from Jerseyville, and that is where all the good looking people come from. We know you could not run your Chautauqua without us, so we come to help you out."

Riddell Aphorisms.

Sacrifice is what makes the man.

No man or woman is educated till he or she has developed an organic mind.

Make the home life of the American people right and we need no standing army.

When we fail to enforce by love, we go to law. When law fails then we go to force.

What we need today is a more tender, considerate, and sympathetic fatherhood.

Glorious old flag. The blue is for true and loyalty, the white for purity, and the red for sacrifice.

There are fifty thousand men in New York who live on what their wives earn over the wash tub.

The railroad corporations pay one thousand dollars for education, and four thousand dollars for character.

Young men, learn to do something, but do that something well. The majority of young people make the mistake in trying to do too many things. Scattering the forces is the evil of our times. Scattering the forces is ruining thousands of lives. Thomas Edison put in fifty-six hours of the most concentrated thought, which brought out the most wonderful achievement of the great electric light system.

A dude parts his hair in the middle, because he has so little brains, that if he parted it on one side his head would drop off. He wears a glass on one eye, because he can see more with one eye than he can comprehend. He carries a gold-headed cane with a donkey's head carved on it, because he believes in the fitness of things. It makes one sleepy to look at a dude. Whenever I get my mind on a perfect blank, then I go to sleep.

Mr. Wright, who is janitor at the pavillion, wants all the people to be comfortable.
