PIASA SPRING WATER.

The Hotel, Cottages and Swimming Pool are all supplied with the great health-giving Piasa Spring water, an analysis of which shows it to be almost identical with the famous Eureka Springs water.

The water is clear, cool, soft, pleasant and palatable. Purity is its greatest quality. There is not the slightest taint of mineral or other foreign substance in its taste. Pure water is nature's greatest solvent; it is the principle factor in healthy digestion, assimilation and excretion. Unadulterated with minerals or drugs of any kind, it is the greatest tonic of all waters. Pure natural spring water will kill germs which will live in distilled water.

It is hard to realize that water which possesses only the innate quality of being pure, can perform the remarkable cures attributed to the spring water, but if you doubt it, the proofs are at hand. The theory is that the water, being so pure, cures by filtering through the tissues of the body and washing out impurities which clog the canals.

The water of the Piasa Springs is supplied by the water system to all parts of the grounds, and to many of the cottages, at a nominal charge.

THE SWIMMING POOL.

What more attractive feature could be suggested for a summer resort than the great Chautauqua bathing pool? The pool is constructed of concrete, is about one hundred and seventy-five feet long, seventy feet wide and varies in depth from two feet at the entrance to eight feet at the opposite end. Depth at different points is plainly indicated by large figures, and the increase is so gradual that there is no danger for those who cannot swim, while the swimmer has room to enjoy as long a dash as is usually desired. An expert is in constant attendance to assist those who may wish to learn to swim. Watching the bathers is one of the favorite pastimes of those who do not desire to take a plunge in the pool.

Steam pipes are run through the water and keep it at a comfortable temperature at all times. The pool is brilliantly lighted with electric lights, and with the water heated, bathing will be enjoyable during the evening as well as the day. There are spring boards, tubs, ropes, etc., affording a variety of water amusements.

Private dressing rooms and bathing suits can be had at reasonable prices.

A refreshment stand is operated in connection with the pool where ices, light refreshments and cooling drinks can be had. No intoxicants are sold.

THE GROUNDS OF PIASA CHAUTAUQUA.

Leading from the Railroad Station at Chautauqua are two beautiful rustic bridges; the one to the left takes you to the "Inn," while the other lands you on the Assembly grounds of the Piasa Chautauqua.

The Assembly grounds include over three hundred acres, all well shaded and with trim gravel driveways and walks leading to the hundreds of beautiful cottages, which are the summer homes of people from points far and near. The grounds are well lighted and supplied with running water from the great Piasa Spring. There are grocery and other stores on the grounds, also lunch counters, barber shop, cigar stands, hotels, boarding houses, etc.

NEW BRIDGE LEADING FROM STATION TO ASSEMBLY GROUNDS

The program is made up of a most enjoyable series of entertainments, some new and attractive feature being provided each day. The Assembly is conducted on the same lines as the parent Chautauqua. The program includes lectures by the most prominent lecturers of the day; sermons by eminent divines, concerts, magic, moving pictures, kindergarten and W. C. T. U. conferences, etc. A large auditorium is located in the center of the grounds, where the entertainments are given. Near this Auditorium is the wonderful Piasa Spring.

Time is never wasted
Listening to the trees;
If to Heaven as grandly
We arose as these,
Holding to each other
Half the kindly grace,
Haply we were worthier
Of our human race.
—Lucy Larcom.

EDWARD AMHERST OTT.

DR. EDWARD AMHERST OTT is not only a lecturer, but an author. He has appeared before more than three thousand audiences in America, and more than twenty-five thousand copies of his books have been sold. American audiences can scarcely get enough of this man and his purposeful oratory.

Every lecture should answer some one of the fundamental inquiries of the mind. If a lecture is also humorous and highly entertaining, so much the better. Although known as the purposeful orator and author, Dr. Ott yet combines much of the humor and entertainment in each of his lectures. His lecture on "Sour Grapes," in which he treats extensively of heredity and environment, he has delivered nearly one thousand times. During the past summer he appeared at the original New York

Chautauqua in two lectures. For two years Dr. Ott was president of the International Lyceum Association, and he has done much for the lyceum movement in general throughout this country.

THE FIFTH REGIMENT M. W. A. BAND.

EUGENE RINALDO, CONDUCTOR.

Everybody will appreciate the band concerts that will be given on Fridays and Saturdays during the entire Assembly Period. These will be appreciated particularly by St. Louisans, who have had the pleasure during the past few months of hearing Rinaldo's Band at the Odeon in St. Louis. Every member of the band is a first-class musician. Prof. Rinaldo conducts a conservatory of music at 1039 N. Grand Av., and is a teacher of note.

The program on the opening night will be a very interesting one, comprising such numbers as "American Patrol," "Hearts and Flowers," and other popular pieces.

In addition to the band concerts every Friday and Saturday afternoon, the band will be prepared to furnish special music for special occasions on orders from the Manager. They will also furnish music for the basket picnic on July 22.

The band being the most expensive attraction of the season, it is hoped that it will merit the support of everybody, and that all will appreciate it.

RENO B. WELBOURN.

THE Slayton Jubilee Singers have always been heralded as the greatest of all colored companies by both press and public. They are unquestionably the ideal colored artists in America, and it is the only colored organization that has ever appeared in the larger lecture courses of this country. From Boston to 'Frisco the Slayton Jubilee Singers have appeared in every large city and every first-class lecture course. They have been the one colored company thus recognized. They are unexcelled and up to date in every way.

THE telegraph, telephone, phonograph and other kindred inventions were marvels which startled an awakening world a comparatively few years ago. They bordered on a dream-world that was just lifting its curtains to inventors. They have become commonplace by general use, and no longer excite the awe and wonder that they once did. They have faded away in the presence of the more marvelous. The wizards of modern science have penetrated farther into the great unknown, and given us discoveries that appear to belong to the realms of the supernatural. These wonder-workers are certainly worthy of our time and attention, for they can take us with them to a veritable world of enchantment. Reno B. Welbourn is one of them. He has not only made many discoveries himself, but he is recognized as the greatest platform demonstrator in America.

M. H. Lichliter, a native of Pennsylvania, a descendant from the original strain of the so-called "Pennsylvania Dutch," a band of religious exiles from the Rhenish Palatinate; a graduate of the De Pauw University, Green Castle, Ind., class of 1900; received the degree of Master of Arts from Ohio Wesleyan University in 1903 for special work in philosophy and English literature; served churches in Pittsburgh and Olean, N. Y., until 1908; since then, the Maple Avenue M. E. Church of St. Louis, where his success has been phenomenal.

Dr. Lichliter has limited his Chautauqua work to only one or two engagements each season, although for a number of years he has been platform manager and morning lecturer at the Merum Chautauqua, Ind., and formerly had charge of the young people's work at the original Chautauqua on the lake in western New York.

"Dr. Lichliter is a man of brilliant parts and of infinite resource. He is one of the most advanced thinkers in the Church."

M. H. LICHLITER.

A splendid physical manhood, a prepossessing manner, strong and vigorous language and the intense earnestness of the man with a broad catholicity of spirit, unite in making a peculiarly striking personality, and reminds one not a little of Phillips Brooks."

ANDREW CARNEGIE SAID

In introducing Captain Jack to four hundred people at Dungeness, Florida, last March: "I sent one of Captain Jack's books to Mr. Roosevelt and asked him to read it, and the President wrote and said that he had received a Broncho Book from the Broncho himself, and added, 'Captain Jack is all right'; and I say Captain Jack is all right, and I take great pleasure in presenting him." And turning to Captain Jack, who sat in his old buckskin garb, he said, "Now Jack, you are a king and we are your humble subjects"; and for an hour and forty-five minutes the Poet Scout entertained, as the following letter from Mrs. Lucy C. Carnegie and a check for $500.00 from Mr. Carnegie will show.

Dungeness, Fernandina, Fla., March 13, 1909.
Capt. Jack Crawford,
Augusta, Ga.

Dear Sir:

I am very grateful to my brother-in-law, Mr. Andrew Carnegie, for arranging your visit here. It was a unique pleasure to meet you and to listen to your conversation, your stories and your poems.

Your evening's entertainment was a decided success. We consider it very remarkable that you could entertain and instruct and hold the attention of so varied an audience for an hour and three-quarters.

You reached alike the negro laborers and the most intelligent among us and gave us all much that was well worth remembering, and gave it in such an unusual and forceful manner that we shall surely remember it—and you.

Wishing you continued success in your calling, I remain,

Very truly yours,

LUCY C. CARNEGIE.

SUNSHINE.

Here is a typical ray of sunshine from the pen of Captain Jack Crawford, the poet scout:

I never like to see a man a'-rastlin' with the dumps,
'Cause in the game of life he doesn't always catch the trumps;
But I can always cotton to a free and easy cuss
As takes his dose, and thanks the Lord it isn't any wuss,
There ain't no use o' kickin' and swearin' at your luck,
Yer can't correct the trouble mor'n you can drown a duck.
Remember, when beneath the load your sufferin' head is bowed.
That God'll sprinkle sunshine in the trail of every cloud.

LAURANT, the man of many mysteries, presenting new, original mystic creations in magic and illusions. In presenting to Piasa Chautauqua the talented magician, Laurant, we feel assured we are offering the most novel, artistic and marvelous attraction of its character now before the American public. No praise on our part is necessary, as the scores of flattering letters, press notices and testimonials we have received throughout the United States are unquestionable proof of the excellence of the artist's work. Mr. Laurant has appeared before and delighted the most cultured audiences on the best lyceum courses in the United States. He enjoys an enviable reputation, only attained after years of hard work, constant, tedious practice, and continual study and research of his mystic art. Realizing the continual demand of the public for something new, artistic and refined, we have secured this attraction. He has justly earned the title of "The Man of Many Mysteries."

VICTOR HUGO'S "LES MISERABLES."

ARRANGED BY MRS. HASKELL.

Emancipation of a Human Soul from Evil by the Power of Love.

The Dramatic Recital given by Mrs. Haskell, of Victor Hugo's "Les Misérables," was nothing short of marvelous. From the moment Mrs. Haskell appeared and began to speak until the close of the program the interest was intense and she was truly magnificent in every scene. Her magnetic personality and deep, strong resonant voice have fitted her for her successful career as a reader, and today she is unexcelled in this line. She depicts joy or sorrow with equal naturalness and fascination and no more delightful entertainment can be imagined than one of her Recitals.

The rendition of "Les Misérables" was indeed the work of an artist; it was a sweetness without affectation, force without bluster, passion without rage, and pathos without effort.—The Pastor's Just-a-Word, Toledo, Ohio.

PETER MAC QUEEN—TRAVELOGUES AND COLOR VIEWS OF MANY LANDS.

IN "The Philistine," Elbert Hubbard says: "Peter knows Africa from Shepherd's Hotel to Cape Town. Every foot of the Bwana Tumbo Country is to him familiar. Lions, hartebeestes, zebras, hippos, rhinos, crocks and tsetse-flies are his playthings. He tells a great deal of truth in his book, and backs it up with many superb pictures. No doubt he tells a few big lies, for like all really good men Peter has not lost his capacity for sin. But there are two kinds of liars: those who lie to deceive you, and those who lie to amuse you. Peter is a great liar, but he deceives nobody."

Journal of Education, Boston:

"Peter MacQueen is the greatest of American Travelers among the younger men. More than a year before Roosevelt, MacQueen was in the deepest forest jungles and with the fiercest beasts at short range, and a more fascinating or better illustrated book is hardly conceivable."

PACKARD—CARTOONIST.

Mr. Packard has been upon the platform for more than a dozen years; he is not only the greatest cartoonist, but he is a genuine entertainer as well. He plays the piano and sings, his musical work having to do with the scenes he portrays upon the canvas. There is not a dull moment in the whole evening. His famous evenings of entertainment in original cartoons, jolly songs and famous sketch lectures are prepared by him in his studio in his Adirondack home. Mr. Packard needs no introduction to the people of Piasa Chautauqua, having been with us before, and was appreciated and enjoyed by all who had the pleasure of witnessing his entertainment.

"His pencil was striking, resistless and grand;
His manners were gentle, complying and bland;
Still born to improve us in every part,
His pencil our faces, his manners our heart."

—O. Goldsmith.

Piasa Chautauqua

IS located less than forty miles from St. Louis in a beautiful valley between high, massive bluffs, with the Mississippi at its front and an almost unexplored forest at its back, one of Nature's most picturesque spots and dear to all those who have enjoyed its beauties, its clear, pure air, delightfully cool nights and beautiful scenery.

Piasa Chautauqua is located on the east bank of the Mississippi River, less than an hour's ride from St. Louis, with frequent trains and boats at low rates. It is accessible from all points and within the means of all who take a summer vacation. The business man can live at Chautauqua and be at his business during the day without loss of time or increase in living expenses. Furnished cottages can be rented at reasonable prices for the season or by the week or month. The hotel accommodations are first class and at very reasonable rates.

Excursion rates are offered during the entire assembly period, by both railroads and steamboats. The man who can only take a day or two from business or possibly be away over Sunday only, does not wish to devote so much time and money to getting to and from his resting place, and he with the longer vacation may not care to spend all his entertainment fund in transportation. He can avoid this by coming to Piasa Chautauqua.

ROSANI

Wonder Worker and Novelty Entertainer; the Management feels that they have secured the Grandest Novelty on the Lyceum Platform. For pleasing, refined and astonishing Novelties, he cannot be equaled. Dexterity, combined with natural skill and pleasing manner, go far towards making his Entertainment the most Artistic, Instructive, as well as Amusing; as it appeals to all, both old and young. As this Act needs a little explanation, we wish to say, HE IS NO MAGICIAN, but a Manipulator and Balancer of various objects, among them being Whips, Plates, Balls, Pipes, Sticks, Swords, Tops, and many other peculiar shaped articles of different weights and sizes. An Act that is ORIGINAL and entirely different from any other entertainment on the Lyceum Platform, having appeared on most of the leading Y. M. C. A. Lecture Courses and Chautauquas throughout the United States, from Coast to Coast.

WHAT THE AUTHORITIES SAY.

Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman:

"I consider him one of the greatest speakers of the day. Three times he thrilled our great audiences. All agree with me in saying that of all men we have ever had at Winona, none have been more highly satisfactory. We eagerly await his return next year."

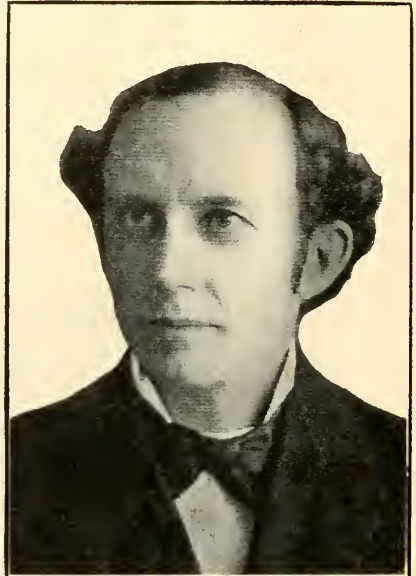

Dr. Chas. F. Aked, Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, New York:

"I have heard nothing like him since coming to this country, and certainly not before. He is the most amazing speaker I have heard in my life. I have not laughed as much during the last twenty years, nor heard as much good sense in a single lecture."

Dr. Geo. R. Stuart, Southern Evangelist:

"Clinton N. Howard is unique, graphic, entertaining. In my judgment, one of the most effective men now on the platform."

is a summer resort with an Assembly season, conducted on broad lines, as outlined more fully on page 25. It is now in its 28th year, and has always observed the same broad, liberal policy which has been appreciated by all who have enjoyed their summers there.

It may be interesting to some to know something about the origin of the word which is so dear to us all. According to legend, the Piasa was a large bird, or rather half bird, half beast, that made its home in a cave in the Piasa bluffs. At night it slept, but in the day time it went forth to seek its human prey, but was finally killed by old Ouatoga, the Indian chieftain, who jeopardized his own life to save his people from extinction.

We cannot vouch for the truth of the statements regarding the Piasa bird, but we can assure one and all that there is no longer any terror of this or any other kind at Piasa, but there are beautiful woods and groves surrounding this quiet, peaceful valley, where the soft, refreshing breezes of summer and the glorious paintings of Nature all sing the song of rest and peace at Piasa Chautauqua.

"The groves were God's first temples; ere man learned

To hew the shaft and lay the architrave,

And spread the roof above them,
ere he framed

The lofty vault, to gather and roll back

The sound of anthem, in the darkling wood,

Amidst the cool
and silence, he knelt down

And offered to the Mightiest solemn thanks

And supplication."
—W. C. Bryant.

WHAT PIASA CHAUTAUQUA STANDS FOR.

Piasa Chautauqua in the Summer Assembly season stands primarily for the simplicity and naturalness of Christian living. It is built on the faith that unaffected, straightforward religion makes a life neither sanctimonious nor fanatical, but simple, normal, vital, free and glad.

Piasa Chautauqua aims, therefore, to realize such a community as religion of that sort creates. In its independent environment it presents a concrete picture of social Christianity, applied not in any Utopian scheme, but in the everyday relations of neighbors dwelling wholesomely together on principles of Christian good will.

In an atmosphere as unconstrained as the atmosphere of a good home, Piasa Chautauqua rejoices in all the spontaneous joys of family and neighborhood life,

THE "LOG CABIN."

C. Bernet, Pres. of Piasa Chautauqua, St. Louis, Mo.

enlarging the family sympathies to include the neighborhood and intensifying the neighborhood sense with much of common interest. Not as an addition to, but as an expression of the simple life it wishes to cultivate.

Piasa Chautauqua gives large place for recreations, amusements—downright fun. From the initial of religion Piasa Chautauqua reaches out for everything that is hearty, hale, whole and unpretentious, and finds itself still within the pale of religion interpreted by its own large ideals.

Whoever loves this comprehensive wholeness of life and despises the tacked-on conventionalities of artificial social standards—whoever prefers freedom and frankness—will be welcome at Piasa Chautauqua, and having come, will be glad for Piasa Chautauqua.

THE COST OF LIVING.

Expenses at Chautauqua are made as small as possible, thus placing an outing on the grounds within the reach of all. Besides the hotel there are many private boarding houses and cottages where guests can obtain rooms and board, or rooms and accommodations for light housekeeping.

The store will be open throughout the season, and all kinds of groceries, fresh fruits and vegetables, meats, bread and cakes can be had at prices as low as those of a city. The gardeners have an abundant supply of fresh vegetables throughout the entire season. Fresh butter, milk and eggs are supplied by the farmers of the neighborhood at very reasonable prices. Two refreshment pavilions are open—one at the main entrance, and the other near the auditorium—where lunches, ice cream, fruit and confectionery are sold. A number of furnished cottages can be rented for all or a part of the season, at from $50 to $125 for the entire season, and fine lots and platforms for tenting can also be rented. In every way Chautauqua is an ideal place and accommodations are obtainable at prices to suit all purses. Telephone and telegraph communication can be had with all parts of the country. Only licensed and trustworthy dealers are admitted to the grounds. Mails are received and sent out three times a day, except Sunday. Have your mail addressed to Chautauqua, Ill.

BOATING AND FISHING.

The Mississippi River is over one mile wide at Chautauqua, affording excellent opportunities for boating. The fishing is also good. There are also many enjoyable short excursions on the river, launches or larger boats making excursion trips to Grafton, or short distances up the Illinois River or to the mouth of the Missouri River.

THE CHILDREN AT CHAUTAUQUA.

The children always enjoy Chautauqua. Not only is it a place of pleasure for them, but it is one where they can profit both mentally and physically. The clubs and various sports will keep them interested, and the panorama of the river, with its passing boats, is always an attraction; the great swimming pool is of such depths that they can enter it without the least danger; swings, games, etc., will keep them busy, and the kindergarten will care for the little tots.

WHERE THE CHILDREN LIKE TO PLAY.

Besides this, there are special features for the children on the Chautauqua Assembly program. The boys and girls can depend on having a fine time when they go to Piasa Chautauqua this year.

How often do you speak of some day's outing as having been a "red-letter day?" If you will arrange for a vacation at the Piasa Chautauqua, you will look back to the time with the feeling that every day was a "red-letter day." A splendid program, elegant grounds, a grand swimming pool, excellent boating and fine hotel accommodations combine to make the outing one which will always be associated with pleasant memories. Arrange for the trip early and organize a party among your friends to spend the summer vacation at this delightful spot. The expenses are small, the returns in pleasure, profit and health are large.

"The birds around me hopp'd and play'd;
Their thoughts I cannot measure—
But the least motion which they made
It seemed a thrill of pleasure.
The budding twigs spread out their fan
To catch the breezy air;
And I must think, do all I can,
That there was pleasure there."

WEEK END TRIPS.

Not every one can take a vacation. Some of us are chained to the desk, no matter how uncomfortable the weather. The only relief from the city, when the streets become like hot Arizona canyons, and the nights forbid sleep is the Week End trip. From Saturday noon to Monday morning to find a spot near to nature's heart, to revel in the pure air of all out-doors and go back to work with a new lease of life, is the thing. The question of where to go is solved by Piasa Chautauqua. Ninety minutes after leaving St. Louis, the office-tired man or woman finds perfect rest and content, simple pleasure and amusements, and a bed where blankets are always necessary, so cool are the nights at Piasa Chautauqua.

SHORT TRIPS FROM CHAUTAUQUA.

Many beautiful and interesting spots can be reached by short trips from Chautauqua, which can be made on foot or by boat. Among these are the Jerseyville Road, with its wealth of wild flowers, Nugent's Bluff, Elsah, Portage des Sioux, Grafton, Babb's Hollow, Fern Valley, Illinois River, Alton, Jerseyville, Lover's Leap, and the Indian Mounds. An outing among the Piasa Bluffs is one which will always be remembered with pleasure. Piasa Chautauqua is situated in the most picturesque part of the Mississippi Valley, filled with romance and folklore of long ago, and every spot is interesting.

Summer Rest, the vacation resort for business women that has for many years been successfully conducted by the managers of the Women's Christian Home, of St. Louis (the oldest branch of the St. Louis Women's Christian Association), is permanently located on one of the most attractive sites of the beautiful grounds of Piasa Chautauqua. One year ago the management purchased and improved a delightful cottage, to which it cordially invited business women who desired a pleasant, restful vacation at small expense. They accepted the invitation, were enthusiastic in their praise of the place, and sent their friends. The one summer convinced the ladies of the Board that they must enlarge their borders and, having the opportunity, they purchased the building formerly known as Roades' Hotel, and now have abundant room for many guests. The building is located near the station and steamboat landing, near the swimming pool, the store, the Auditorium and the Spring.

The Roades Hotel has always been a popular hostelry, with good accommodations at reasonable rates. Even this good reputation will be improved under the present management, who greatly desire the patronage of those whom they wish to benefit. Any woman of good moral character, earning her living, and mother and sisters dependant upon her, are cordially invited to spend their vacation at Summer Rest. Board, $3.00 per week; special terms when necessary. Mrs. A. L. Rider, the lady who so acceptably conducted the Rest last summer, will be in charge.

Summer Rest will open June 1st. Until the industrial women occupy the entire hotel, friends of the Christian Home are invited to hold house-parties at a low rental. For such a purpose no more charming spot can be chosen. Full particulars given at

THE KINDERGARTEN.

The Chautauqua Kindergarten will commence Monday, July 17. Classes will be held each morning, except Sunday, in the Auditorium.

Efforts are being put forth to make this the most successful year in the history of the assembly; we extend a hearty welcome to the little people, who are planning a summer at this ideal resort, and wish to assure them a splendid time.

Chautauqua is an ideal place for children. Was not Froebel's ideal Kindergarten a play house in a garden? Chautauqua with its hills, spreading trees, beautiful flowers, spring and river, offers you the ideal Kindergarten.

Here with the mysteries of nature close at hand, with well directed games and free play, with the fairy story teller directing the childish imagination to discover landscape voices, and landscape friends, the Kindergarten hopes to spend very pleasant hours with the little tots of the summer class.

A more perfect place for the development of the child's three-fold relationship, namely, to God, to nature, and to man, is not to be found; here close to nature and to nature's God the work of such a session is unlimited.

Let us remember Froebel's Motto, "Come, let us live with the children."

Situated in the center of the grounds, where the grocery store formerly stood, is a two-story structure with a spacious reception room and fire-place on the first floor, supplied with the usual furnishings. Adjoining are the toilet rooms. The entrance to the ladies' rooms is from the reception room, the entrance to the men's toilet is from the porch. Modern sanitary plumbing is the prime feature in the construction.

The stairs lead from these to the bath rooms on the second floor. Hot water heaters are installed in each room, which will be especially appreciated. The barber shop is on the second floor. The barber will also have charge of the men's bath and toilet. The ladies' toilet will be in charge of a woman who will also have the management of the check-room, where packages may be left for a small fee.

A porch with tables and chairs will add to the comfort. Here the garden is confined to flower boxes which will decorate the porch. This improvement has been made possible by the liberal donations of cottage owners and friends, who, as well as all visitors, will enjoy the comfort for which it was intended. All are welcome. There will be a sales booth, where bath shoes, sun hats and toilet articles can be purchased. The proceeds will go to the Ladies' Civic Improvement Association.
